JIM BUCK ROSS
COMMISSIONER

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI:

The cover of this bulletin carries an artist's rendition of a view of the new Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum here in Jackson. The exhibits in this museum tell of the rich and varied part that agriculture has played in the history of this State.

As we look back at the part agriculture played in our past, let us not forget that agriculture is playing a vibrant and vital role in Mississippi today. Also, the future of Mississippi and of agriculture are inescapably intertwined.

This bulletin contains the statistical record of agriculture's contribution to our economy, and is provided to you in fulfillment of one of the many responsibilities of your Department of Agriculture and Commerce. This publication was prepared by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, combining the cooperative efforts of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and the Statistical Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The voluntary cooperation of farmers, ranchers and agri-business people in supplying these data for this bulletin is deeply appreciated and I want to extend my sincerest thanks to each and every one of you.

Sincerely,

Jim Buck Ross

The year 1982 did not seem to be out of the ordinary weather-wise. Temperatures were about normal and rainfall was reasonably adequate during the growing season. Yields were generally good, except for cotton. Cotton was extraordinary and set a record high yield of 853 pounds of lint per acre, 121 pounds above our previous record high yield of 732 pounds per acre set in 1964.

Mississippi's agricultural history for 1982 is contained in this bulletin. This bulletin is the result of voluntary reports by Mississippi producers and agri-business people. I want to thank you, one and all, for your time and efforts. We could not do it without you.

Sincerely,

Dick Knight
